Current System

Currently all drop-in centres use a paper system to record the number of attendees for each drop-in program.

Over 90% of respondents say it takes more than 3 minutes to check-in with this system.

Improvements

Almost all respondents said that the system could be improved by making it digital or allowing users to check-in on their phones.

The most important things to users is that the new system to be fast, easy to use and to protect their data.
